UNDERSTANDING THE TREATMENT PROCESS

- 1) Recovery from addiction can be a long-term and lifelong process. This process may require multiple attempts at recovery, possibly including: hospitalizations, detox programs, inpatient and outpatient services, medical intervention and mental health support. It is important to be strong and supportive during this commitment so that lives can be transformed!
- 2) It is important to be patient when searching for services, as well as persistent and inquisitive. It is normal to ask questions to make sure you find the services that best meet your needs.
- 3) A provider will determine an individual treatment plan. Not all treatments are best for everyone.
- 4) A “Treatment Plan” identifies challenges, goals and the strategies to accomplish those goals. This plan should be coordinated with the patient, treatment provider and any support member of the patient’s personal circle.
- 5) Treatment programs are VOLUNTARY, except for those that are court ordered, also known as SECTION-35*. (See Section-35) It is important to ask a treatment facility their policy about engaging in treatment.
- 6) SECTION-35* A Court Ordered Treatment: A petition for “the procedure for Commitment of Substance Abusers.” Any family concerned for the health and safety of their addicted/dependent relative can go to a court clinic and present the severity of the issue. If the court deems that the individual is in danger of hurting himself or others, they will mandate that person to substance abuse treatment, legally for 30 days.

- 7) Finding treatment is the beginning of the process. It is important to realize that staying in treatment and possibly transitioning from service to service are part of the long-term commitment necessary for a person to continually engage in services.
- 8) Medical detoxification programs should also provide access to medical services and mental health services.
- 9) The usual course of treatment after detox is outpatient therapy, group/family counseling and community support (such as AA, NA, etc.)

* In Massachusetts only

Possible SYMPTOMS of WITHDRAWAL:

Nausea

Vomiting	Cold clammy skin
Seizures	Lack of concentration
Insomnia	Bone and muscle aches
Lack of appetite	Diarrhea
Dizziness	Pinpoint pupils
Violent or angry outbursts	Nodding Off
Hot/Cold Flashes	Shallow breathing
Irritability	Goose Bumps

If someone appears to be overdosing, experiencing shortness of breath or chest pains, seizing, or passing out - it is IMPORTANT to call 911 to get them to an Emergency Room as soon as possible.

TREATMENT PROGRAMS

- Assessment Counseling: Assessment meetings can usually be scheduled by calling and requesting an appointment. A clinician or specialist will gather information about the situation, diagnose the patient and help identify and plan the most appropriate treatment method with the highest rate of success for the individual. He or she provides support and guidance to engage and educate the patient about the treatment process
- Detox (Inpatient): Short-term, usually 3-7 days, will alleviate or medically assist the body from the chemical dependence. Usually uses medically supervised withdrawal and most often requires a “medical clearance” of other primary concerns prior to admission
- Rehabilitation: Detoxification and therapeutic support program in a hospital, typically 1-2 weeks, usually covered by private insurance or self-pay; limited ‘free care’ beds available
- Outpatient Therapy: Many types including therapy sessions (individual, group or family,) Intensive Outpatient services (a few hours a day or 3-5 days a week), Methadone or Suboxone maintenance programs
- Support and Self Help: Can include AA, NA, Al-Anon, Al-A-Teen, GA

DETOXIFICATION PROGRAMS

What to expect:

Detox programs admit patients when they are actively using and will possibly require labwork upon entering:

- Usually require medical clearance
- Often require many phone calls so be patient!
- Be courteous and persistent!
- Have a valid license or picture ID ready
- Have insurance card or insurance information ready
- Have a paper and pen to write down any instructions or detailed information (i.e., “call back at noon”)
- Have detailed information available about current medications, current treatment providers, last time used and how much or what, court information, etc.
- Have a friend/relative with you to coordinate transportation

Other TIPS that might make treatment helpful:

- Encourage the person entering the treatment process to sign a “Release of Information” waiver for a family or support member
- Inquire how the program will work including, rules, regulations, policies, procedures, and finances
- Inquire about the available Mental Health Services and supports that are available for aftercare
- Utilize the staff for advice and information regarding other information that is vital to your situation

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

What if there is a co-occurring mental health problem?

If a client has a psychiatric disorder which needs to be stabilized and/or managed to be able to treat the substance addiction they will have to be referred to a psychiatric facility or be assessed in an Emergency Room. Some examples of these disorders or symptoms are:

- Major Depressive Disorder
- Schizophrenia
- Bipolar Disorder
- Anxiety Disorders
- Symptoms such as psychosis (hallucinations or delusions) mania, acute depression, suicidal or homicidal behaviors

How long does a Section-35 commitment last?

The length of the civil commitment will vary with the severity of the client's addiction and the client's response to treatment. The commitment cannot exceed 30 days.

How do I handle the Insurance information?

- It is important to check with your insurance carrier to find out what Mental Health/Behavioral/Substance Abuse services that are covered. He or she may also assist in locating treatment placements. (Check the back of your insurance card for the phone number to call.)

- Some facilities will offer free care beds-this is a question you will need to ask when calling for information.
- Sign up for Mass Health if possible: Applications can be completed online, at a Clinic or Hospital or through Mass Health Member Services by calling 1-800-841-2900 (In order to complete application, you will need proof of income.)
